manaphy:

wow I didn't know fuckin chocolate eggs were gendered
OKAY LET ME TELL YOU A STORY ABOUT THE FUCKING PINK EGGS.

I work at a concession stand in an ice rink. We sell a bunch of chocolate bars and snacks and shit including Kinder Surprise eggs.

So one day this woman comes up to the counter with her two little kids, a girl who's probably about 6 or 7 and a little boy, maybe 3 or 4. The mom asks what they want, the little girl points at the Kinder eggs and says "One of those!". I asked if she wanted the white or the pink egg. She said pink. The little boy pointed to the Kinder eggs and says "One of those!". I asked if he wanted the white or the pink egg. He said pink. HOLY SHIT IT WAS LIKE I OPENED THE GATES OF HELL. The mom absolutely FLIPPED and was like "YOU ARE NOT GETTING THE PINK EGG IT'S ONLY FOR GIRLS. YOU CAN GET THE WHITE ONE OR NOTHING AT ALL". The little boy looked at his mom and said "But I want the same as _____ (whatever the sister's name was)". The mom completely ignored him and turned to me and gave me a death glare. "He can have the white egg."

I had to give a little boy a white egg when he wanted the pink so that he could be the same as his big sister and he started crying. The mom just reiterated that the pink egg was for girls and told him that boys don't cry.

And this is why we shouldn't gender fucking chocolate eggs.

IF YOU'RE UNEMPLOYED IT'S NOT BECAUSE THERE ISN'T ANY WORK

JUST LOOK AROUND: A HOUSING SHORTAGE, CRIME, POLLUTION; WE NEED BETTER SCHOOLS AND PARKS. WHATEVER OUR NEEDS, THEY ALL REQUIRE WORK. AND AS LONG AS WE HAVE UNSATISFIED NEEDS,

THERE IS WORK TO BE DONE.

SO ASK YOURSELF, WHAT KIND OF A WORLD HAS WORK BUT NO JOBS? IT'S A WORLD WHERE WORK IS NOT RELATED TO SATISFYING OUR NEEDS, A WORLD WHERE WORK IS ONLY RELATED TO SATISFYING THE PROFIT NEEDS OF BUSINESS.

THIS SOCIETY WAS NOT BUILT BY THE HUGE CORPORATIONS OR GOVERNMENT BUREAUCRACIES. IT WAS BUILT BY PEOPLE WHO WORK. AND, IT IS WORKING PEOPLE WHO SHOULD CONTROL THE WORK TO BE DONE. YET, AS LONG AS EMPLOYMENT IS TIED TO SOMEBODY ELSE'S PROFITS, THE WORK WON'T GET DONE.

So. Hi new people! Apparently, we're gonna talk about sex. Like physical sex! Because... there's some confusion.

First, sex defined: We're talking physical sex here, not gender. Body parts, hormones, and genetics (and more).

BLUF: BIOLOGICAL sex is a spectrum

Ok, everyone's super familiar with the XX/XY dichotomy, right? Yeah, what we all learned in like... 4th grade? And that's great, it gives you a starting point. But it's... well it's only the very starting point. The IDEA is, XX is girl, XY is boy, right?

2/

ScienceVet
@ScienceVet2

Welllll... that's not totally right. There are XY people, who have ovaries! And give birth! AH! And XX people who have male bodies and functional sperm!
Double AH!

3/

ScienceVet
@ScienceVet2

These are usually written off as "abnormalities" and indeed, some cases have medical issues. But many don't (like the XY woman giving birth). And this is really only the very very tip of the iceberg of "wait, that doesn't fit into our M or F box unless we make it bigger"

4/

ScienceVet
@ScienceVet2

There's a WHOLE HOST of things that can cause all sorts of "weird" things to happen, ranging from genetic (XXY, XYY, Y, X, XX with translocation, XY with deletion) to hormonal (Androgen Insensitivity, Estradiol failure), and disruptors like dioxins

ScienceVet
@ScienceVet2

So, you're a scientist, and you want to research stuff, right? Which means you have to categorize stuff. Without categories, data is hard! So you take allll these people, including the "weird" ones and you plot them on a graph. Logical!

ScienceVet
@ScienceVet2

You use all the differences there are, different genetics, different responses to hormones, different effectiveness in signalling pathways, different sizes in Aanteroventral periventricular nucleus (AVPV) (yeah that's a thing) and give everything numbers, add them up.

ScienceVet
@ScienceVet2

You get what's called a bimodal distribution (mostly, we'll get to that later) Which looks like this. Those two big peaks are what we call "male" and "female" (even conveniently colored pink for boys and blue for girls - we are using victorian gender colors right?)

Now, when you're trying to look at data, we often group stuff. When we do that with a plot like this, it's called a "histogram." Basically we're breaking down a curved line into discrete "bins." Like this (image stolen from the web).

ScienceVet
@ScienceVet2

Traditionally, we've used REALLY BIG bins for this when talking about sex. Basically you either group everything vaguely near a peak into the peak, or you just pretend there's nothing else but the biggest peaks. This makes it super easy, because 2 is simple to do data with.

This is Warsaw, Poland right now after the right-wing government banned abortion. Millions of women across the country have brought everything to a stand still. Right-wing men believe they can tell women what they can and cannot do with their bodies is done in the 21st century. Hopefully these women will topple the current regime. If the right-wing Supreme Court tries to criminalize abortion, we will end the Supreme Court as an institution. source

So all women and girls there remember whenever you face outrageous situations so first of all don't feel bad for yourself because it's not you who wrong in the circumstance so come out and say loudly without any hesitation and battle for yourself. You are a survivor, not a victim and survivors always win. If you criticize yourself, everyone will do but if you fight against it everyone with you. You are fearless. <https://www.facebook.com/photo/?fbid=204311794441636>
